VR to Testify on Housing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller and several other Arkansas officials were to go to Washington today to testify before a panel of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

WARNING FOR JULY 4 HOLIDAY

Lord, keep me alert when I'm at the wheel
And steady my hand with Your safety seal.
All life, dear God, mine, others' too,
Is not our own; it belongs to You.
"You shall not kill"—This is Your Command;
Give me the grace to understand
And follow it, in rain and in sun,
When I'm strongly tempted to give it the gun.
This car I drive, dear Christ, I see
As a gift from You, Your courtesy.
And, speaking of courtesy on the road,
Let me show others Your love, O God.
Give me Your help, that near and far,
I may always see Christ in the other car.

By KEN HARTNETT

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Small Business Administration guaranteed a $135,000 bank loan to a high-salaried Negro baseball star Lou Brock under its program for disadvantaged businessmen.
Brock, the St. Louis Cardinals' left fielder, said no one ever told him the guarantee was made through the SBA's minority enterprise program rather than the stricter conventional business loan program.
"It never even came up," said the $85,000-a-year star of the past two World Series. "Not even once that I can recall."
Brock said all he sought was conventional SBA financing that would allow him to open an automobile dealership in heavily Negro East St. Louis.
"I went to them not in the sense of asking for a minority loan, Hell, I went to them for a loan—period."
The St. Louis SBA office, which officials in Washington say is lagging in loans to ghetto dwellers, granted Brock the 90 per cent guarantee March 7, three days after he applied.
The guarantee represented about 10 per cent of the $1.1 million in total minority business transactions by the St. Louis office from July 1968 through last May.
Brock, 30, also owns a florist shop and a share of a chicken franchising firm which have no SBA involvement. He said he was confident he could have received the auto dealership loan without an SBA guarantee.
"I never tried it," he said in an interview. "You'd really have to give it a try. There's no doubt in my mind that I could. I'd be awfully surprised if they said no."
John P. Pfeffer, SBA regional director in St. Louis, said Brock was turned down for a loan by two banks. He defended his decision to channel Brock's guarantee through the minority program.

"He is a Negro," Pfeffer said, "a member of a minority group." Pfeffer said it would not have made much difference if conventional programs had been used.
Conventional SBA programs carry stiffer requirements, an SBA Washington official explained. Collateral is usually required, he said, and the equity the loan recipient must furnish can range up to 50 per cent.
Under the minority program, 15 per cent is the usual cash equity and even that can be lowered or waived.
In Brock's case, an SBA spokesman said, the St. Louis office asked him to put up only 10 per cent of the $150,000 needed to close the deal.
Brock, he said, put up $15,000 and the bank $135,000. No mortgage was required but Brock personally guaranteed repayment up to $50,000 should the venture fail. He is to repay the loan in 10 years at 7 per cent annual interest.
"True, he's making a fine salary now, but obviously, he's not had time to build up equity and while he owns a house, it's heavily mortgaged," Pfeffer told a reporter. "He has a good job at the moment but what happens to him if his arm goes bad or he twists a knee?"
C. J. Rogers, president of the Union National Bank of East St. Louis, which extended the $135,000 loan, expressed surprise that the loan was made under the minority program.
"To me it was a routine SBA transaction. It was not under any special category."
The SBA, seeking to close what its officials termed an ownership gap between whites and nonwhites,

Finch Takes on Another Powerful GOP

By WILLIAM BARTON

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch, fresh from a losing battle with Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, has taken on another powerful Republican senator in a dispute over school desegregation policies.

Finch is on record opposing any relaxation of federal desegregation standards, such as lifting deadlines for complying with integration guidelines.
However, Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., joined by some members of the White House staff and by officials from Finch's own Health, Education and Welfare Department, have been pushing hard to get the deadlines lifted.

Finch, however, appeared Tuesday to be winning support, both inside the government and from other Republicans, in his effort to maintain the time limits.

And he gained additional time to argue his view when Justice Department officials postponed, for a second time, a desegregation policy statement.

Last week, when Thurmond and his allies were starting their push to lift the deadlines, Finch was concentrating on trying to gain presidential approval for Dr. John H. Knowles as his undersecretary for health and scientific affairs, despite Dirksen's objections.

The Illinois senator won. Knowles was rejected and it looked like a foregone conclusion that Finch would lose on the desegregation issue as well.

Then, sources said, intragovernmental bickering increased over how the statement of the administration's position would be worded.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Jerris Leonard, head of the division, said it appeared unlikely an announcement would be made this week.

Moreover, Leonard told a group of southern civil rights advocates, who came to Washington to protest any softening of the guidelines, that they were "being extremely presumptuous."

Thurmond's chief support, it was learned, had come from Harry Dent, a former South Carolina GOP chairman now on President Nixon's staff, and from Robert Mardian, a Californian named general counsel in Finch's department with the support of the South Carolina senator.

Under the present guidelines, drawn up by the Johnson administration last year, school systems were told to complete desegregation by the opening of the 1968-69 school year.

Where a district had a majority Negro population or where new schools had to be constructed, exemptions were given allowing until September 1970 for full compliance.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell carefully avoided Tuesday a question on whether the standards would be relaxed.

But a source said Mitchell has not opposed Finch on the guidelines issue, adding: "Finch's troubles are within his own department and at the White House."

State Police Gears for July 4 Traffic

By PETE YOUNG

Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — They were children, grandparents and fathers with youngsters. All seven were planning to enjoy the July 4th weekend last year. They were the weekend traffic victims.

Col. Ralph Scott, director of the State Police, said his department was gearing itself to try and prevent the annual holiday highway bloodbath from occurring this year.

More than 350 State Police officers, working in 12-hour shifts and armed with radar vascor devices and using airplanes, will patrol the state highways during the 78-hour period.

The police operation will be called Red, White and Blue.

"The red is for the tragic reality of death and destruction on our streets and highways," Scott said. "Blue symbolizes fair and impartial law enforcement, an American ideal and the basic premise of the State Police operation."

"White will symbolize tranquility and safety on our streets and highways in Arkansas during the holiday period," he said.

Reviewing last year's holiday victims, Scott said. "We've got a real problem—we knew it when we saw the list of deaths."

The seven dead included an Alma housewife who failed to yield the right of way and died when a speeding car struck her vehicle, State Police records show.

A 3-year-old child was playing happily with some other children in an open field when he decided he was like getting home. He was struck by an automobile when he darted onto the highway.

A Hot Springs man lost control of his car when it wandered off the right side of the highway. Instinctively, he jerked the wheel to the left to get back onto the road and swerved into the path of another car. He and a passenger were killed.

An elderly lady sauntered across the highway to a mailbox. The motorist was not speeding but still was unable to stop before fatally striking the woman.

Scott said enforcement of traffic law would be stringent. All hazardous violations will result in a citation, he said.

Man Injured Critically in Spa Fire

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — J. H. Jennings, 37, of Hot Springs was injured critically Tuesday in a fire at the Hot Springs Brass Foundry Co. plant.

Fire Chief Vern Smith said an hydraulic oil line broke and spewed hot oil into a hot metal vat, causing the fire, which heavily damaged about one-third of the foundry.

Jennings was standing in front of the vat at the time.

Three other workmen were burned, but didn't require hospitalization. They were Herman Stultz, L. B. Miller and Billy Williamson.

ing in critical neighborhoods in other cities without creating any neighborhood objections. They offered to take a group of interested citizens to inspect a mill of the proposed type now in operation at El Dorado. Cost of the proposed mill is estimated at over $300,000.00.

The Planning and Zoning Commission deferred making recommendation on the issuance of the permit until they could make a more complete investigation. They requested that Bill Wray, City Building Official, visit a mill of the proposed type and make a proposed study of the operation, and have the information available at the next regular meeting of the Planning and Zoning Commission which is July 15th. Mr. Wray said that he was going to try to get a carload of interested people to accompany him.

KENNETH POWELL

The Air Force has announced the promotion of Kenneth V. Powell to the rank of Colonel. The promotion is effective July 1. Colonel Powell entered active duty with Company "D" 153rd Infantry Regiment, Arkansas National Guard, in 1940 as a private.

He later transferred to the Air Corps and was commissioned at 2nd Lt. in October 1942, after completing the Air Corps Pilot Training Program. He subsequently served as Advanced Pilot Training Instructor and flew a tour of combat in the Pacific Theater in B-29's.

Colonel Powell was released from active duty in 1947 and recalled in 1951 for the Korean Conflict. Since recall he has served with the Strategic Air Force.

Currently he is serving as Deputy Director of Air Operations, Headquarters Air Force Systems Command at Andrews Air Force Base Maryland. He is married to the former Margie O'Neal, daughter of Mrs. E.P. O'Neal of Hope. Colonel and Mrs. Powell have three sons, Paul, attending Southern State College, and Vic and Mike at home.

State Teacher Groups Are Now Merged

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two Arkansas teacher groups — one Negro and the other white — officially became one Tuesday night at the 107th annual convention of the National Education Association.

Ceremonies at the convention joined the white Arkansas Education Association with the Negro Arkansas Teachers' Association. The groups actually voted to merge last April.

Some 7,000 delegates to the nation's largest teacher organization rose to their feet and applauded the action.

A joint committee of representatives from each association had worked out plans for a representation in the merged association, including staff members, committee appointments, voting procedure and usage of NEA property in what was called "an event of historical significance for education."

changing their voting procedures to make it more difficult for Negroes to vote or run for office.

The present law requires the states to get prior approval from the attorney general before any change in procedures can go into effect. The administration bill would leave it up to the attorney general to uncover such changes and then institute any action to block a procedure.

The administration's attempt to replace the 1965 act brought a strong reaction from liberal Democrats and Republican civil rights advocates, who complained the new bill would weaken Negro voting rights by diluting the law's effect where it is needed most—in the South.

Some civil rights groups also have charged President Nixon agreed to take the sectional character from voting rights legislation in order to obtain Southern support in last year's presidential election.

And some critics say Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell would not be particularly inclined to search out discriminatory changes made by the states in voting procedure.

The strength of the opposition, which had taken on the dimensions of a revolt within Republican ranks, was brought home forcefully Tuesday when Mitchell appeared before the House Judiciary Committee.

William M. McCulloch, a generally mild-mannered Republican congressman from Ohio who rarely lets the public know where he stands on controversial legislation, sharply criticized the administration proposals as a step backward in the civil rights field.

McCulloch, senior Republican on the committee, said he was particularly disappointed by the voting procedure change provision in the administration's bill.

Mitchell said the present provision is ineffective because the states ignore it. McCulloch accused him of surrendering without a fight. "Noncompliance does not justify repeal," he said. "That's not the way to promote law and order."

The firm stand for extension by McCulloch was a key factor in the administration's apparent willingness to compromise.

Ford, after his White House meeting, told reporters, "I'm not gonna get into a fight with Mr. McCulloch."

Mitchell made few converts in the Judiciary Committee, which is almost certain to approve extending the 1965 act when it takes up the matter July 10.

cal significance for education."

Maxine Chapman, NEA director from Arkansas, acknowledged the delegates' action.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. GERALD JOSEPH REYENGA

Miss Mary Stuart Tolleson and Gerald Joseph Reyenga exchanged marriage vows at 4 p.m. Saturday in the Presbyterian Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ellis Tolleson. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Reyenga of Hope.

Rev. Everett Vinson performed the ceremony. Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. R.L. Gosnell, organist. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of candlelight peau de sole caged in embroidered lace. Her matching headpiece held a silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade of butterfly roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Jennifer Tolleson was her sister's maid of honor. Miss Susan Tolleson, sister of the bride was the junior attendant. Thomas Tolleson, brother of the bride was the candlelighter.

Stanley Reyenga, the bridegroom's brother served as best man. Ushers were William Tolleson, Jr., Danny Reyenga, and Ted Reyenga.

A reception followed at the church. After the honeymoon the couple will be at home in Pensacola, where the bridegroom is employed as a chemical engineer.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — There is really only one way to enjoy a parade or a pageant: get there early, find a good, comfortable location and stay through the whole thing.

Thanks to the three television networks, Americans on Tuesday could watch, from beginning to end, a medieval ceremony during which the 20-year-old heir to the British throne was invested as prince of Wales in ancient surroundings that at times looked like something out of Camelot.

The proceedings, flashed by satellites around the world from the ruins of a fortress in Caernarvon, Wales, was a repetition of rites that were centuries old, crusted with tradition and brilliant with color. The "highlights" carried later on the news shows could only hint at the brilliance of the whole. Viewers who saw the big show in black and white missed about half of it.

"Pomp, but moving pomp," Hugh Downs called it. There were almost two hours of ceremonies. The British royal family turned out in force. Lords and ladies in full regalia marched in solemn procession. There were soldiers in flashing armor and proud plumed helmets riding spirited horses. Trumpet fanfares echoed from the castle battlements. The place seemed awash with red velvet, white ermine and gold.

A young prince with an engaging, shy manner—and cheeks pink with nervousness—was given the symbolic crown, sword, ring and sceptre by Britain's queen, his mother. The occasion was given some suspense by the off-camera threats of violence by a dissident Welsh group, and at one point viewers heard the sound of a gun going off.

All three networks used the impeccable and thorough picture coverage by the British Broadcasting Corporation. NBC used its own well-prepared staff for the commentary, but CBS much of the time—wisely—added the commentary of the BBC's Emyln Williams, which was precise and warm.

NBC, unhappy with the ratings of its daytime programs, is attempting to patch one weak spot by substituting a game show for a soap opera. "Hidden Faces," which had failed to catch on

The new program uses three two-man teams who try to guess concealed words by means of contorted definitions.

For instance, Larry Blyden, one of the regulars, was to clue his teammate, comedienne Tottie Fields, on the identity of Gypsy Rose Lee, but in circus terms. "Bare back rider," said Blyden. Since Miss Lee's name was one of four that had been announced, Miss Fields won the point immediately.

Rev. Spragins to Conduct Local Service

The Rev. Doctor Fitzhugh Spragins of Batesville, Arkansas, will be conducting Sunday Morning services at the Presbyterian Church during the month of July. The pastor, Jim Sewell, will be on vacation.

Dr. Spragins and Jim Sewell were classmates at Arkansas College. After receiving his AB degree from Arkansas College, Mr. Spragins earned his B.S.D. degree from Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Virginia, in preparation for the ministry. In Aberdeen, Scotland, Dr. Spragins ministered at the University of Aberdeen for his PhD degree. In 1965 Dr. Spragins came to Arkansas College as professor of religion.

Dr. Spragins is the son of the late Dr. John D. Spragins, former minister, president of Arkansas College and superintendent of Home Missions, Dr. Spragins also claims relationship with the Hope congregation and community.

The public is invited to what promises to be thought-provoking services of worship.

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN?

Dear Helen: My wife and I each had five children by former marriage. We all get along great except for my oldest daughter who resented our having a baby last year, and is throwing a fit because my wife is pregnant again. (We can afford a big family, and we have love enough for all.) She disrupts the whole family, and her grandmother eggs her on. My mother considers it indecent to have more than two children, so she ignores all of ours except the two oldest. She spoils and pampers them, but it has had an effect only on my daughter. Our son won't buy this sort of thing.

I must admit this 14-year-old girl is a big problem. She is bad-tempered and lazy. She has run away twice, and each time ended up at her grandmother's, which is where she wants to live. I'm not in favor, as I feel my mother is trying to take my daughter away from me, but we can't go on fighting. It makes for big tensions in an otherwise very compatible home. I seem to have failed as a parent in this case.

Why, when you raise them all the same, does one turn out so differently? Where did I fail?

Washington.

If you hope to catch a glimpse of President Nixon practicing this stroke on Ike's famous putting green or Tricia tossing her pretty blonde locks, forget it. You're lucky to see a rose.

"The crowds are so large you have to keep them moving," said Sgt. Daniel Cassell, who heads the 14-man uniformed force which marshals more than 2 million people yearly through this whirlwind ride of an American legend.

"They start queuing up as early as 7 o'clock in the morning and the gates don't open until 10," says Cassell. "Visiting hours are between 10 and 12 noon on Tuesday through Friday, 10 to 2 on Saturday but the schedule can be canceled suddenly if there is a press conference or a prominent visitor."

The perspiring mob passes through the East Gate and into the East Room, or Ball Room, scene of the President's televised press conferences and small receptions such as the recent one for Duke Ellington.

FATHER

Dear Father: You didn't fail. With an over 90 per cent compatibility record in your family, I'd say you are an outstanding success as a parent. Each child is "born different." Even a paragon sometimes can't win 'em all.

For the good of the whole, let your daughter go to her disdain-two of a kind.

-H.

Dear Helen: Thirty years ago ten of us young matrons started a little club. We did charity work, volunteered for Red Cross during the War, and finally ended up playing bridge once a week, as two of us are now gone.

Of course we are getting along in years and some are widowed. The trouble is one lady has become very careless with her housework, which wouldn't bother us, except that we take turns being hostess and always serve lunch. Her dishes are so dirty we hate to eat there, but we do not want to hurt her feelings. Since her husband died, she just lies on the couch and watches TV all day. You'd think her daughters, who visit her often, would insist that she clean up. Since they don't would it be all right to give her a little hint?—MRS. CLEAN AND FRIENDS

Dear Mrs. C: If friends of 30 years' standing can't level with each other, who can? Let your friend know how the rest of you feel about widows who give up. She may thank you for it—later on.—H.

Dear Helen: About those gals who complain to you because their friends are always knocking their husbands in public, especially at hen parties:

I used to tell everyone what a wonderful, exceptional, terrific man I had until I heard a psychologist say that the wives who do the most public raving about their husbands are the ones who most often end up shooting them.

In the interest of keeping my guy alive and well, I now join the crowd. So after I've taken a couple of funny little jabs at him, I come home feeling guilty for dinging such a nice guy—and I'm especially good to him to make up. So maybe the psychologist was right: A little criticism makes a happier marriage. True?—EX-GUSH-ER

Dear Ex: Meebe—but don't overdo it.—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble, or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of Hope Star. Copyright, 1967, Inc.

Fastest Man on Circuit Explains Race

By F. T. McFEELY

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Big, blonde Cale Yarborough, the fastest man in the world on a closed circuit race course, tried to explain what it's like to go better than 190 miles an hour.

"It's almost unexplainable," he began. "When you get to 135 the G-forces start working on you and every mile an hour better than that is that much harder."

Going into the 31-degree banks of Daytona International Speedway at 210 to 215 m.p.h. puts a driver under twice the force of gravity, he estimated.

"Just trying carrying twice your weight," he said. "It affects your neck and arms more than anywhere. And you're driving all the time in the turns."

The stocky Timmonsville, S.C., veteran of NASCAR's super-speedways once said anyone who could hold his foot to the floor could drive Daytona's 2.5-mile circuit.

"That's not true anymore," he said. "When you come to that first turn at 215 miles an hour it looks like you're coming into a wall."

He and the Wood brothers, mechanics who own and service his 1969 Mercury, were overjoyed at the record 130,706 m.p.h. lap Yarborough used to earn the pole position for Friday's Medal of Honor Firecracker 400.

Leonard Wood credited the new 429-cubic inch engine with the speed to wipe out the record 190,029 m.p.h. David Pearson set in a Ford last February.

Usually summer speeds are a little lower because the asphalt track is sticky. But Cale and his chief rival with the sound-alike name but no kinship, Lee Roy Yarborough of Columbia, S.C., turned practice laps right at 191 shortly before qualifying began.

Yarborough's engine broke a rocker arm as he tried to qualify and he made one lap at 182,090 m.p.h. on seven cylinders—good for ninth starting position.

"I know I could have gone at the record," said a disappointed Lee Roy, "but now we'll have to just go for race day."

Donnie Allison of Hueytown, Ala., took the front row starting spot beside Cale in a Ford off a 187,703 speed.

Ford's also qualified third and fourth—Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., at 136,989 and Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., at 186,636.

Qualifying also began Tuesday for the Paul Revere 250 grand touring race which begins at midnight Thursday. Jim Paschal of High Point, N.C., had the best speed of 104,111 m.p.h. around a 3.81-mile road course in a Ford.

Travelers Lose Game to Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Right-handed Jim Bibby fanned 12 and the Memphis Blues backed him with 15 hits to beat Arkansas 8-3 in a Texas League baseball game Tuesday night.

The 12 strikeouts ran Bibby's league-leading total to 114 and tied him with Arkansas Reggie Cleveland for the most wins, 10.

Memphis sent 11 batters to the plate in the first inning, banging out five singles which, coupled with three Arkansas errors, gave the Blues five runs and a lead they never yielded.

Arkansas scored one run in the third on Dan Jaster's double. Roger Robinson's single in the eighth inning drove home the other two Travelers runs.

Billy Carthel and Chico Diaz, the leading Blues hitters, got four and three hits respectively to pace the big Memphis attack.

In other games, El Paso and Amarillo split a doubleheader, with Amarillo winning the first game 1-0 and El Paso the second 4-1. San Antonio beat Shreveport 6-3 in 10 innings and Dallas-Fort Worth edged Albuquerque 2-0.

Agnew Attacks Neo-Experts on Vietnam

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, in attacking "neo-experts" who suggest alternatives on Vietnam policy, apparently reflects a determination by the Nixon administration to meet its critics head-on.

Speaking to the Midwestern Governors' Conference in Wichita, Kan., Tuesday night, Agnew lumped senatorial critics and former Johnson administration officials in the category of those whose "sincere opposition is undermining our negotiations for peace and prolonging the war" in Vietnam, in some cases.

Agnew's remarks gave no sign that President Nixon was at all contrite—as prominent Democrats think he ought to be—about blasting former Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford during a national broadcast on the Vietnam troop pullout issue.

The vice president was back on Nixon's theme when he said "There is no easy way out of Vietnam," and added:

"If there had been an easy way out the previous administration would have found it. The bitter irony of criticism by officials of the past administration lies in their absence of achievement when the opportunity and responsibility rested with them."

This applied to former Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus W. Vance, the No. 2 man in the Johnson administration's delegation to the Paris talks. They have been critical of Nixon's failure to lower the level of U.S. military pressure against the enemy while the talks are underway.

Agnew was no less critical of senators who have proposed changes in Nixon's policies. Without naming anyone, he accused "self-professed experts" of producing almost daily quick, easy and unilateral solutions.

"Unfortunately, the more removed these neo-experts are from decision-making responsibility, the more simple and inflexible their proposals become," Agnew said.

These experts, caught in the deep emotional desire to end human suffering, are mainly honest and sincere in purpose. They want to end the struggle, at any cost. . . . Bluntly, they want the United States to default on the commitment of "our presidents."

The vice president's criticisms, following President Nixon's attack on the "new isolationists" indicated the administration is sticking to a hard line.

Prince Charles Greeted by Yachtsmen

By RONALD THOMSON
Associated Press Writer
CAERNARVON, Wales (AP) — Cheering yachtsmen and spectators ashore greeted Prince Charles today at the vacation resort of Llandudno as the new Prince of Wales began a four-day "meet the people" tour of his restive principality.

The 20-year-old heir to the British throne had a cozy dinner party with friends, including some much talked about girls, before leaving Holyhead aboard the royal yacht Britannia. He was reported in a relaxed mood with the personal ordeal of his investiture, its bomb scares, deaths and royal pageantry behind him.

"It's as if a huge weight had been lifted from his shoulders," said an aide.

Small sailboats and yachts clustered around the Britannia when it arrived at Llandudno, on Wales' north coast, after the overnight trip from Holyhead, on the Isle of Anglesey. But security was heavy, and Navy frogmen searched the Llandudno pier for bombs throughout the night.

Charles landed just after 9 a.m. wearing a dark brown suit. As the royal barge moved toward the pier, he waved in acknowledgment of the cheers.

The prince had said he wanted to meet as many Welsh people as possible during his tour. At Llandudno town hall, he signed the visitors book and talked with local officials.

While he was ashore, his sister, Princess Anne, and other guests on the Britannia disembarked from the Britannia and left for London by special train.

Charles was to visit Denbigh, Caernarvon, Merioneth, Montgomery and Cardigan Shires today before returning to spend the night aboard the Britannia off Newquay on the west coast of Wales.

Charles invited his closest friends to an informal celebration dinner Tuesday night aboard the royal yacht Britannia. The guest list, particularly the girls, was headline news in Britain and aroused fresh speculation about the nation's most eligible bachelor.

The girls included Lucia Santa-Cruz, 25-year-old daughter of Chile's ambassador to London and a classic blonde beauty Charles has known for years; Sybilla Dorman, 19-year-old daughter of the governor general of Malta who was Charles' guest at a Cambridge ball last May; and Lady Cecil Kerr, 21, a pretty brunette daughter of the Marquess of Lothian.

After dinner there was "just sitting around and talking and laughing, no music or anything elaborate," a spokesman for the prince said.

The Britannia left early this morning for the vacation resort of Llandudno on the north coast, the first stop on Charles' four-day tour of Wales called the "Royal Progress." He is due to make more than 50 stops and is expected to shake thousands of hands at civic functions throughout the land.

But security men were out in force along his travel route, a constant reminder to Charles that his installation as Prince of Wales was bitterly opposed by Welsh nationalists seeking separation from Britain.

Only nine hours after his investiture—Britain's most spectacular royal ceremony since the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II—a military policeman was killed by a firebomb beneath the floodlight walls of Caernarvon Castle. The area swarmed with investigators who warned post-midnight celebrations away.

"This is a murder scene to keep away," said one officer. "This is obviously connected with the ceremony in some way."

Authorities said the soldier had been sitting with a girl in a military truck when a Molotov cocktail was thrown under the vehicle. He died instantly in the explosion but the girl was reported to have escaped serious injury.

Earlier Tuesday, before the investiture, a bomb went off in a vacant lot outside Caernarvon at the very moment Prince Charles mounted his state carriage for a two-mile drive through cheering crowds to the ceremony.

A bomb hoax also had delayed the Royal Family's train ride to Wales, and two men believed to be Welsh extremists were killed by a bomb blast 200 yards from the railroad tracks before the train arrived.

Although the young prince's personal popularity was never in doubt, there were Welshmen still convinced that the investiture had done nothing to banish centuries-old suspicion of England.

But defenders of the monarch claim that the nationalists fail to appreciate the almost mystical strength of royalty in Britain. A television documentary about the life of the royal family put it this way:

"The great strength of the monarchy does not lie in the power it gives to the sovereign but in the power it denies to anybody else."

While Charles was dining with his friends aboard the Britannia, 1,500 guests and three times that many onlookers gathered at an investiture ball in Llandudno to view the guests of honor,

Cigarette Ad Proposal Is Condemned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The proposed federal requirement that all cigarette advertising carry a death hazard warning was condemned by the American Advertising Federation today as "piecemeal and simplistic."

The federation also questioned whether the stiff warning proposed by the Federal Trade

Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon.

Commission would be effective in getting cigarette smokers to quit.

"However much the commission's proposal may save its conscience," the federation said in written testimony, "it does not solve the problems."

Only Congress, not the FTC, has the power to deal with the broad complexities of the smoking-health problem, the federation said.

One complexity, it said, is that not only the health of smokers but the earnings and welfare of tobacco workers is involved in any solution.

The advertisers and the tobacco industry presented their case at the second day of FTC hearings on a proposed requirement that all cigarette advertisements—on radio and television—carry the warning:

"Cigarette smoking is dangerous to health and may cause death from cancer, coronary heart disease, chronic bronchitis, pulmonary emphysema and other diseases."

Zionism

Not all Jews are Zionists. Zionism is the word for the movement which, in the late 19th century, was led by Theodore Herzl, who worked for the establishment of an independent Jewish state in Palestine.

The advertisers and the tobacco industry presented their case at the second day of FTC hear-

HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY:
The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.

1899 — Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude Mc-Corkle; converted to an evening daily by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.

The opposition line:
1880 — Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers.
1883 — Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.

1883 — Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury.
1884 — Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by Betts, J.L. Tullis, and Col. W.W.
Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.

1916 — Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald
— but both papers suspended in 1922.

1926 — Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly Hempstead County Review.

1927 — Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.

1929 — C. E. Palmer and A.H.
Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.

1957 — Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president.

1969 — With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Some Safety Precautions
For Water Skiing Buffs

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

With water skiing again drawing large numbers of enthusiasts to the water, let's consider the safety precautions necessary to prevent injury to yourself and others.
Don't ski unless you are a good swimmer, even though you wear a ski belt or life preserver, as you certainly should. When skiing, you should lean back. Avoid falls by crouching low to regain your balance and try never to fall forward. Keep your distance from fishermen, swimmers, boats and other solid objects. Don't ski in congested areas, shallow water or by moonlight.

Your driver should avoid excessive speed and sharp turns unless you are in the professional class and he should stop the motor before allowing you to climb back on board. His observance of all rules of motorboating courtesy will add to your safety.

Q—What is the fifth disease? After exposure, how long before you get it? Can you have it more than once?

A—In childhood, before some of the newer vaccines became available, one was likely to get measles, German measles, roseola (closely related to measles), scarlet fever (sometimes called the fourth disease) and No. 5
— erythema infectiosum.
This is a mild nonfebrile rash that occurs in epidemics and may affect nonim-mune persons of any age but chiefly children. The incupation period is six to 14 days and the disease may last from two to 24 days. No treatment is required and a second attack is very rare.

I assume you were not referring to lymphogranuloma venereum which is sometimes called the fifth venereal disease.

Q—What is episodic hypo-glycemia?

A—This is low blood sugar that is not constant but occurs in spells. It is usually associated with an increased production of insulin by the pancreas.

Q—What is Deprol used for? What are its side effects? Is it harmful to take alcoholic beverages while on this drug?

A—This is a combination of two tranquilizers. It is not habit forming but prolonged use is not advisable. The danger of dependence on the drug is greater in persons who have a craving for alcohol. The side effects include drowsiness, dizziness, headache, nausea and dryness of the mouth.

Leaky Valve Interrupts Countdown

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A leaky fuel valve today interrupted a countdown rehearsal for the Apollo 11 man-on-the-moon launching.

The trouble developed just one hour, 50 minutes before the test was to end with the simulated ignition of the Saturn 5 rocket. Until then the lengthy test had proceeded for 54 days without a hitch.

Launch officials called a halt in the count and sent a four-man team of troubleshooters to the pad to check the valve.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the valve was located on the 200-foot level of the rocket service tower and was part of a system that replenishes liquid hydrogen to the third stage.

NASA had no immediate estimate on the length of the hold. An official noted the purpose of the countdown rehearsal was to pinpoint and eliminate such problems before the final count is started.

Church Wants Amnesty for War Evaders

BOSTON (AP) — A body of Protestants whose roots go back to the nation's beginnings wants President Nixon to grant amnesty to young men who have been punished or driven into exile for refusing to serve in the Vietnam war.

The United Church of Christ, at its policy-making assembly Tuesday night, urged "in the name of Christian love" a pardon for those imprisoned, indicted or caused to flee the country in resistance to service in Vietnam.

This has happened to an unknown number of young Americans "because of the moral ambiguities of our nation's Vietnam policy," the church said in a statement adopted by delegates. It has been estimated that about 700 are in jail, with many others living abroad.

A general amnesty, the church said, would be "in the interests of reconciliation and the binding up of wounds, for the sake of our freedom and to show our high respect for conscience."

The two-million-member church said, "The reputation of the United States as a strong and confident democracy would be enhanced by amnesty."

The seventh largest among Protestant bodies, the United Church was formed through a merger involving Congregation-

Woman Stabbed to Death

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
DANVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Anna B. Soley, about 65, was found beaten and stabbed to death Tuesday at her home in Plainview in Yell County.

A neighbor found the body of Mrs. Soley lying on the kitchen floor. Mrs. Soley's husband, S. R. Soley, 65, also was discovered suffering a stab wound and was hospitalized.

Officers said a hammer, ice pick and knife were found near the two.

FBI Arrests Pair for Bank Robbery

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — FBI agents arrested Tuesday night Everett Hardy Wyatt, who was sought in the $34,000 robbery of the Helena National Bank Jan. 3.

Herbert Hoxie, special agent in charge of the Little Rock office of the FBI, said Wyatt put up on resistance when he was arrested in Pulaski County.

Wyatt had been indicted Feb. 11 by a U.S. Grand Jury at Little Rock on a charge of robbing the bank.

The holdup was pulled by a gunman who told bank officials that the wife of John Moye, a bank vice president, was being held hostage by two of his companions. The robber demanded $35,000 for her release.

It was later learned that the alleged abduction was a hoax. Moye's wife was safe at home and was not a hostage.

Richard Thomas Schmitt, who was charged with Wyatt, has been sentenced to a five-year prison term for his alleged part in the holdup.

Hoxie identified Wyatt, 26, as a native of Searcy who has worked extensively as a painter in Searcy.

Celtics Promote Jeffrey Cohen

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association Tuesday announced the appointment of Jeffrey Cohen to the newly created post of assistant general manager.

Cohen, 26, has served as public relations director for the Celtics the past four years.

Unit of Measure

The foot as a unit of measure is based on the length of the human foot. Before the unit was standardized, it varied from about 12 inches to nearly twice that length.

Ways & Means Work Top Speed on Tax Reform

WASHINGTON (AP) — While the Senate lades into the sticky issue of the income surtax extension, the House Ways and Means Committee is committed to a full speed ahead effort to complete work on a comprehensive tax reform measure.

There is a possibility the House could have its reform bill to the Senate before the senators dispose of the surtax issue. This would develop if Senate action on the surtax takes as long as some Democrats are suggesting—up to three months—and the House committee can deliver the reform measure as quickly as promised—by early August.

Should this happen, a merger of the measures would be logical, but not necessarily probable. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen is pushing hard for quick action on the surtax extension. He told a news conference he would like to see it enacted by July 31, but that it would be jeopardized "if it loaded down with a lot of reforms."

A determined group of Senate Democrats, backed by the party's policy committee is laying plans to turn the surtax measure into what they call a loop-hole-closing bill. This could mean prolonged hearings and debate, pushing final Senate action long into September.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he doubts the bill can get through the Senate unless it contains broad tax reform provisions.

The first test will come next week when the Senate Finance Committee voted on procedures for considering the measure. Dirksen says he wants hearings limited to two days, but Democrats outnumber Republicans 10 to 7 on the committee.

In the House, a Ways and Means Committee source says there is little doubt the comprehensive tax reform bill will be ready for a House vote in early August.

The in-depth review of the Internal Revenue Code began in February and, while the committee has made decisions on a number of proposed tax changes, some of the toughest problems are still ahead.

These include depletion allowances on oil and other minerals; the special treatment of capital gains, including the exemption of capital gains transferred at death; alternatives to the tax exemption of interest on state and municipal bonds; fast depreciation of real estate; changes in tax benefits for the elderly; maximum and minimum income taxes.

Representatives to Girls State, Tina Martin, Karen Beggs, Mary Beth Millican, Becky Ward, Peggy King, and Debbie Moore, presented the program at Tuesday's meeting of the Hope Kiwanis Club.

Debbie Moore and Peggy King spoke briefly of their experiences and the group sang Girls State Camp Songs.

New members formally inducted by George Frazier were David Stewart and Douglas Haynie. Tommy Crouch rejoined the Club after an enforced leave of absence. Mrs. Douglas Haynie was a guest for the induction of her husband.

Two Highway Projects in This Area

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Highway Commission is scheduled to open bids July 23 on six highway projects totaling about $700,000.

Projects, by county are: LEE and ST. FRANCIS—Surfacing of 13.5 miles of Arkansas 79 from Soudan northeasterly to junction of Arkansas 38 at Hughes.

HEMPSTEAD and NEVADA — Surfacing of 17.9 miles of Arkansas 24 beginning east of McCaskill and extending to west of Prescott.

LAFAYETTE — Surfacing of 9.3 miles of Arkansas 29 from the junction of U.S. 82 to Lewisville to the Hempstead County line.

WHITE — Surfacing of 7.8 miles of Arkansas 11 from the east side of Walker Corner to the Prairie County line.

IZARD — Surfacing of 14.5 miles of Arkansas 69 from junction of Arkansas 9 to Melbourne to the Independence County line.

RANDOLPH — Clearing and grubbing, grading, minor drainage structures and miscellaneous for 3.1 miles on Arkansas 166 extending northeasterly from Noland.

Walls Split in Rome by Tremors

ROME (AP) — Five tremors split walls and caused panic today at the start of the summer vacation season in an arc of tourist resorts across the usually earthquake-free zone just north of Rome.

The earth shocks were felt within 17 miles of Rome. Greatest damage to buildings was at the ancient seaport of Civitavecchia, 36 miles up the Tyrrhenian coast from Rome. There five-story apartment building had to be evacuated.

AMA Says it Never Opposed Dr. Knowles

By C. G. McDANIEL AP Science Writer CHICAGO (AP) — The president of the American Medical Association said today that "in a true sense" the group never opposed the nomination of Dr. John H. Knowles to an important federal health post.

Dr. Dwight L. Wilbur of San Francisco said the AMA did withhold its support of Knowles because it had three candidates of its own—none of whom got the job.

Knowles, general director of Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, had been proposed as assistant secretary for health and scientific affairs in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

He was favored by HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch, but after considerable public controversy, Finch last week withdrew the nomination and proposed Dr. Roger O. Egeberg of the University of Southern California at Los Angeles for the post.

The opposition of the AMA, backed by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., the Senate minority leader, was blamed for the withdrawal.

In a statement, Wilbur said: "In a true sense, we never opposed Dr. Knowles. But we did not support him because we had alternative recommendations."

Wilbur said that in keeping with a promise to Finch, the AMA had declined to comment during the controversy over the Knowles nomination.

"We held our silence during the last months of nationwide publicity because we agreed with Secretary Finch to make our suggestions to him and then say no more," Wilbur said. "We did that. The Knowles protagonists obviously did just the opposite."

He continued, AMA favored appointment of a physician representing the broadest scope of medicine and not too closely oriented to any one segment of medicine or the health field."

It was reported during the controversy that one reason the AMA wanted someone other than Knowles was that he represented hospital interests.

"I am certain," Wilbur said, "that notwithstanding the extraordinary history of this situation—Dr. Egeberg and the AMA will be able to work together in a productive effort to serve the best interest of the American people."

Israel Jets Shoot Down 4 Egyptian MIGs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Israel claimed its jets shot down four Egyptian MIGs in a dogfight over the Gulf of Suez today. Egypt did not confirm the losses but claimed two Israeli Mirages were shot down.
Cairo radio quoted a military communique as saying two Israeli plane formations entered Egyptian air space in the Ain el Suk Neh area, were intercepted by MIGs and two Israeli jets were shot down in the ensuing fight.
The Israeli army said its planes encountered the MIGs while on patrol, pursued them, and four of the Soviet-built planes were seen falling in Egyptian territory.
The Israelis also confirmed that some of their jets flew over Cairo last June 17, an audacious move that led to the firing of Egypt's air force chief, Gen. Mustapha el Henawi, and Gen. Hassan Kamel, responsible for Egypt's air defense.
Their dismissal was announced in Cairo June 23. Egypt's new air chief, Gen. Ali Baghdad, lost three MIGs by Israeli count within days of assuming his new office.
The air clash follows Israeli commando raids on three Egyptian positions in the Gulf of Suez Tuesday night and an Arab guerrilla attack on an Israeli army position in Jordan's occupied West Bank.
A spokesman in Tel Aviv said the Arab raiders were driven off by Israeli fire and there were no casualties.

Automobile Replaces Fireworks as Biggest Killer on 4th of July

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
Associated Press Writer
The automobile "as made the Fourth of July holiday an occasion for going places rather than staying home and snooting fireworks."
This factor and the enactment of a variety of laws have come close to eliminating fireworks deaths during Independence Day celebrations. But the crack of fireworks explosions is still heard throughout the land and Americans continue to be injured, sometimes severely.
In 1963, the American Medical Association listed 466 fireworks fatalities.
In recent years, Associated Press compilations have noted one or two or even no deaths.
But bootleggers of pyrotechnics continue to peddle their wares.
A spokesman for the National Fire Protection Association said: "We believe injuries run about 5,000 in the July 4 period."
The association has written a model statute, which permits the use of cap pistols and canes with caps on the end and allows authorized public displays of fireworks.
Eighteen states, with 46 per cent of the nation's population have adopted this model law or similar legislation. They Arizona, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, and Rhode Island.

Convention Is Against Price Fixing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Constitutional Convention adopted a provision Tuesday that would prohibit the state from fixing the prices of consumer goods.
The convention voted 72-14 in favor of the proposal, which would void the state's "fair trade" liquor law. The law fixes a minimum markup of 13 per cent on the wholesale price of liquor and 30 per cent on the retail price.
Delegate Howard M. Alderson of Stuttgart, who originated the proposal to prohibit price-fixing laws, said the fair trade liquor statute passed in 1949 placed "excess profits into the pockets of the privileged few—the liquor dealers."
Alderson said the legislature had difficulty in repealing the law because of the liquor lobby.
C. R. Warner Jr. of Fort Smith favored abolition of the "fair trade" law, but opposed Alderson's proposal because, he said, he didn't think it belonged in a constitution.
Warner said liquor interests would spend great sums of money to defeat a proposed constitution in the 1970 general election if the proposal were contained in any new document the convention drafts.
Alderson endorsed an amendment to his proposal by Bill Prewitt of El Dorado to exempt from the provision the prices of goods set by municipalities and regulatory commissions having jurisdiction over public utilities.
The "Fair trade" liquor law was clearly at issue in Alderson's proposal.
W. G. Wiley of Melbourne said the legislature "has enough problems than taking on price-fixing laws."
"I think the legislature has had ample time to correct this injustice," said Arthur Hays of North Little Rock.

Most of Middle Aged Don't Know How to Relax and Enjoy It

By HALL ROYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — The trouble with middle age is that most of the people undergoing it don't know how to relax and enjoy it.
They tend to regard it as teenagers do—something they'd like to hide if they could. They see it as an affliction, not a blessing.
But every period of life has its advantages—yes, even middle age. For example, when you're middle-aged—
It is no longer really necessary to waste money buying alarm clocks. Your conscience will wake you up.
While every work day does get to feel like Monday, that means you look to work with five times as much eagerness toward Saturday and Sunday.
As there are fewer women older than you, there are fewer that you have to get up and yield your bus seat to.

It doesn't take you so long to comb your hair, and the time you save can be put to more constructive use.
Realizing she must conserve your waning energy, your wife is more willing to take the dog for a walk in bad weather. She may even pitch in and help shovel the snow off the driveway in winter.
As you do not longer allow you to eat gravy, it becomes impossible for you to spill it on a new necktie.
Many people in the upper reaches of middle age no longer have to fire their lives out brushing their teeth. They can see MOST OF MIDDLE (on page two)

Nashville Youth Drowns at Lake

MURFREESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Eli Harper Jr., 16, of Nashville drowned Tuesday in Lake Greason.
It was believed the youth struck his head on a rock while swimming under water. The boy was camping at the lake with a family from Nashville.
Harper is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Harper of Nashville.

Neil Bell, 38, a resident of Gurdon, was killed before 8 a.m. Wednesday when the earth moving equipment (Euclid) he was driving crashed through the Terre Rouge Creek bridge railing and plunged into the water. The wreckage is pictured above.
Officials said he worked for one of the contractors on Interstate 30 and was supposed to have turned off on another road before reaching the bridge.
He is survived by a son, Stephen Rance Bell of Flushing, Mich., his father, John R. Bell of Abington, Va., and one brother, Norman Bell of Memphis. Herndon Funeral Home is in charge of local arrangements.

Application for Feed Mill Is Reviewed

In a special meeting last night, the Planning and Zoning Commission reviewed an application of A. C. Monts, Jr., to construct a feed mill at the location of the Soybean Plant near the old Baskett Factory location. A group of citizens over a wide area of that section of the City had filed a petition with the City Clerk protesting the issuance of a building permit.
The building laws provide that if a protest is filed within 48 hours after the application for a permit, the City Clerk must refer the application to the Planning and Zoning Commission for review. Their recommendation is then passed to the City Board of Directors for consideration. Either party may appeal the decision of the Directors to the Chancery Court.
The small area in question was zoned for industrial use in 1966, to permit the installation of the soybean storage facilities. Citizens objecting to the feed mill were concerned over the possibility of creating objectionable odor and dust in that area, and the possibility of a fly and rat problem.
Representatives of A. C. Monts, Jr., including the design engineer for the proposed feed mill, explained that the proposed mill would be of the most modern design and would not create any of the problems mentioned. They pointed out that several new mills were already operating.

Two Killed at Walnut Ridge

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. (AP) — Two Walnut Ridge residents were killed Tuesday in a one-car accident on Arkansas 91 near the Craighead County line.
They were identified as W. R. Pierce, 75, and W. J. Bartlett, 70. State Police said Pierce apparently lost control of the car and it ran off the highway and struck a tree in the front yard of a house.

Voting Rights Compromise Is Cleared

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, apparently moving to head off a potential revolt by House Republican civil rights supporters, has indicated it will not oppose a compromise that could clear the way for extending the 1965 Voting Rights Act.
Under the compromise, originally suggested a week ago, the House will first act on extending the 1965 law, then consider the broader package voting legislation sought by the administration.
First indication the administration would not insist on a total substitution of its own program for the 1965 act came Tuesday following a White House meeting between House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford and President Nixon.
The 1965 act is narrowly drawn to protect Negro voting rights in seven southern states. The administration bill would expand its provisions—with one major change—to all 50 states and also ban state residency requirements for voters in presidential elections.
The major change in the administration proposal from existing law is in a provision designed to prevent states from See VOTING RIGHTS (on page two)

Two Drowned in Creek at Heber Springs

HEBER SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Sandra Selgrist, 14, and William Smart, 23, both of Parma (Clebourn County), drowned Tuesday afternoon in Caney Creek near Heber Springs.
Sheriff Pat Warren of Clebourn County said the accident happened when the girl stepped into a hole over her head. The sheriff said Smart tried to rescue her, but both went under when he reached the girl.
Diane Selgrist, a sister of the victim, also stepped into the hole, but was pulled to safety by a small boy, Warren said.
Miss Selgrist was the daughter of Mrs. Jackie Redding and stepdaughter of James Redding of Parma. Smart was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Smart of Parma.

Gas Lines Want Rate Increases

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Mississippi River Transmission Corp. announced Tuesday that it had asked for rate increases in Arkansas, Illinois and Missouri.
R. V. Terry, president of the natural gas pipeline company, said the increases were needed to raise revenues by $8.1 million a year, because the firm's current earnings can't support investment requirements.
He did not list the proposed rate changes.
Accident Involves Four Vehicles
There was an accident at 3:35 p.m. yesterday involving four vehicles on West 3rd; a ready mix Garrett Truck parked on the shoulder of the road; an Ambrose Robinson gravel truck driven by Lemon Scott, who was charged with improper brakes and no chauffeur's license; a cement truck of Fischer Lime Cement Co., NLR, driven by Andy Curley of Little Rock; and a '68 Chevrolet driven by Norman E. Bilodeau.
Scott's brakes failed and he ran between the Garrett truck parked on the shoulder and the Fischer Truck backing into the ready mix plant. Bilodeau tried to avoid collision and go around, but hit the trailer he was pulling on the corner of the Fischer truck.
Officers Long and Slayard investigated.

Attacks by Viet Cong Drop Sharply

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers said today that battle activity in Vietnam in the last week may have dropped to the lowest level of the war and he indicated this could increase U.S. troop withdrawals if the lull continues.
Rogers also told a news conference that "we know pretty conclusively" that the infiltration of North Vietnamese troops into South Vietnam has declined in the last two or three months but the reason for this is not clear.
Rogers cautioned that the reason for the battlefield lull is not yet quite clear either, saying more time would be required to decide whether it was politically significant.
He said, however, that "we hope this is a response to the announcement by President Nixon and President Thieu of South Vietnam at Midway." The Midway announcement June 8 disclosed Nixon's decision to withdraw 25,000 American troops by the end of August.
Rogers said he had talked with Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird immediately before going into the news conference.
He said: "He told me that last week we had the lowest level in combat activity in Vietnam in a long time—possibly during the whole war."
"We don't know the meaning of this," Rogers said.
But he declared several times that it was that North Vietnamese forces might be regrouping or they might be having trouble replacing their manpower.
Rogers said the military balance on the Communist side is now about 70 per cent North Vietnamese troops and 30 per cent South Vietnamese Viet Cong.

Would Retain Right-to-Work Labor Law

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A committee of the state Constitutional Convention recommended Tuesday that any new constitution retain existing usury and right-to-work laws.
The General Provisions Committee had made the same recommendation earlier, but the convention had deferred the proposals to the panel.
The committee voted 7 to 5 to retain the 10 per cent maximum interest rate. The vote on the right-to-work provision was 9-1. Arthur Hays of North Little Rock, the state labor commissioner, cast the dissenting vote.
